Newsletter - Friday 12 January 2018

This week...

Term is now well underway, and we enjoyed our first shared learning assembly of term this week: Year 6 taught the school how to do algebra, and Year 2 shared their New Year's resolutions with us, among other things.

Clubs are beginning and children have started their new topics. To look at the Big Picture overview of this half term's learning, visit www.scsj.rbkc.sch.uk - click on the SCHOOL LIFE tab, and then the name of your child's class.

On Monday children will have their photographs taken, so please help them make an extra effort to be neat and tidy in correct school uniform.

We have set some extra dates, including class assemblies, so please do check overleaf and make a note.

Look out soon for information about Book Week (at the end of February) - as well as some of our favourite ways to celebrate books, we'll be including some new ideas to help us enjoy reading, which parents will be able to get involved with. Watch this space!

Have a great weekend.

Attendance to date: 95.6 %
This is decreasing and is below our target to meet national average.

This term in our assemblies we are considering different aspects of bravery.

On Monday in assembly we heard what Mark Twain (American author) thought about bravery:

Courage is resistance to fear, mastery of fear - not absence of fear.
